Does Andrew Johnson Remember?

SCARCELY a year has passed since Andrew Johnson performed a certain official act which gained him the applause of every honest man in the nation. A clerk in one of the departments at Washington refused to pay over to the committee appointed for the purpose of assessing the Government clerks, any portion of the salary to which he was entitled by law. For this contumacious independence he was either dismissed or threatened with dismissal, when the facts in the case came to the ears of the President, and he ordered his immediate reinstatement. But this did not satisfy the indignant President, who furthermore decreed that the independent clerk should be promoted to the first vacancy above him that might occur in his bureau. Whatever motive influenced the President to take this course, he certainly gained by it the approval of every one who would strike a blow at one of the most fruitful sources of corruption in our system of government.

Andrew Johnson has now an opportunity to regain at least a small share of the favor with which he was at one time regarded by patriotic and honest men. The so-called "National Union City Executive Committee," who have their headquarters at the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District, No. 247 S. Third street, in this city, recently passed a resolution, of which the following is a copy:—

"Resolved, That the officers of this Committee be and they are hereby authorized to cause an assessment and collection to be made on all Federal office-holders in this city, of one per cent. on their annual salaries, and that the respective heads of offices, and that the assessments can be made with them for the early assessment and collection of the same."

In accordance with this resolution, a printed circular, bearing the date of October 1, has been addressed to the head of every Federal office in the city, informing him of the action of the Committee, and requesting immediate compliance with its behests. He is instructed to select some one in his department to make the specified assessments and collections, and to pay over the same, on or before the 5th instant, to John F. Preston and Lawrence Tobin, residing from the a receipt by way of voucher. He is further more informed that the money must be paid to Messrs. Preston and Tobin in their proper persons, "as no other persons or committee in the interest of President Johnson's Administration are authorized to make collections from Federal officers in this canvass." The circular closes with a grand flourish, to the effect that "Eternal Vigilance is the price of Liberty," and bears the signatures of Hon. William F. Johnston, Collector of the Port, as President, and William McMillin, of the Fourth Ward, and S. E. Cohen, who recently published a Sunday newspaper, as Secretaries.

It is the attention of his Excellency has not already been called to this document, we would most humbly perform that office, expressing at the same time our profound conviction that it will meet with prompt and decisive action on his part.

Charles Buckwalter Opposed to Abraham Lincoln and the War for the Union.

We have heretofore given our readers extracts from two speeches of Charles Buckwalter. One of these addresses was delivered September 17, 1863, in which he denounced the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus by Mr. Lincoln, although done in pursuance of an act of Congress; asserted that he was carrying on the war upon "abominable principles;" that the people were "at his mercy;" and advocated a resolution that his great Emancipation Proclamation was "un-constitutional and impolitic." The other was pronounced at the Keystone Club, November 4, 1864, shortly after he was beaten for Congress by Hon. Leonard Myers. In this declared himself opposed to the war, and to unconditional submission of the Rebels; called those carrying it on an Abolition party, who were the cause of the war, and were trampling on the rights of the South!

This same Charles Buckwalter, the defamer of Abraham Lincoln, is now the conservative (?) candidate for Congress against Hon. Leonard Myers, the friend and supporter of Mr. Lincoln.

The files of the Age will prove these extracts to be genuine, and merely specimens of the malignant spirit which breathed throughout Mr. Buckwalter's utterances during the war, worthy only of Vallandigham, William B. Reed, Charles Ingersoll, Benjamin Harris, or of Heister Clymer, whom Buckwalter is now supporting for Governor.

We refer to these speeches, that the people may examine for themselves, and vote understandingly, remarking that we have not yet done with the speeches of Mr. Buckwalter. The citizens of the Third District who revere the memory of Abraham Lincoln will, by their votes next Tuesday, again teach him that the people hold the same opinion that General Grant does of those who, in time of war, sympathize with the enemies of their country.

Let every Republican election officer see that the law is enforced on deserters allowed to vote. Let him refuse to receive the ballot of all such, and be not overawed by violence. The people and law will sustain him.

How the Democracy Hope to Carry the State.

MR. WILLIAM A. WALLACE is beyond all doubt a most active Chairman of a State Central Committee, and if he could but infuse some of his enthusiasm, determination, and absence of all scruples into his followers, he might hope to win the State by one of those gigantic frauds which the Democracy are so renowned for perpetrating. Occasionally, however, he oversteps himself, and his letters fall into the hands of his adversaries. Such is the case with "Circular No. 4," which was issued by him and sent to J. B. Sansom, of Indiana county, from the headquarters of the Democracy in Walnut street. This rich document, published and vouchered for by the Harrisburg Telegraph, reveals a plot to carry the State by the vilest means known to a popular election—by fraud, ballot-box stuffing, and colonization.

We do not intend to make any comments on this circular, but merely to give some extracts from its advice. Speaking of the receipt of deserters' votes—on which the Democracy set proper value, as it is well known that all who fled from their duty in the trying hours of the war now sympathize with the Democratic party—Mr. Wallace says:—

"The only evidence of desertion is the record of conviction. The act of a Assembly known as the McCoskey law is totally void as regards all other cases, and I desire to impress it upon you and our friends that the law with us in this matter, and the law will be sustained in receiving these votes in every case, and will be rescinded in resorting to every means to poll them. None of the penalties imposed by that law can ever be enforced; I have the very highest authority for declaring this to you."

Here is a direct incentive to resort every means to compel the officers to receive these fraudulent votes. But the case is expressed still stronger. In the Democratic counties he advises:—

"Where we have the President Judge, the District Attorney, and reliable juries, the case is a very plain one. The votes must be polled, and you must threaten the Republican officers, and fulfil your threats. This will dispose of the matter in the Democratic counties. In these counties in which the Republicans have the judge, jury, and District Attorney we must be specially active in sustaining and upholding our election officers, and if we can succeed in getting them right, the whole trouble is reduced to Republican districts in their counties. Here the lists again become useful, and I advise that our friends change the voter (if it can be done) into a Democratic district over ten days before the election."

Here it is intended that the officers of the law be threatened, and the threats be fulfilled. The powers of law are to be overawed by gross violence, and brute force rule where legal authority alone should hold sway. At the same time colonization is countenanced, and the law forbidding any man to vote who changes his residence in order to do so is totally ignored. That a desperate effort to secure that vote is to be made, is shown by the whole letter, more especially the following paragraph:—

"The first thing to be done is to keep our election officers rally up to the mark, and sustain them in receiving these votes. Advise that a circular signed by the District Attorney and the Democratic members of the bar, distinctly pointing out their duty under the law, and giving the point needed in Hilder's, Kelly, and assuring them that the act of Assembly cannot and shall not be enforced against them, be placed in each of the hands."

But we need quote no more. Which is the illegal party? Which causes violation of the law? That the leaders of the Democracy esteem such desperate means necessary, is sufficient evidence that the cause is almost hopeless; and the publishing of this infamous circular will incite every man possessing State pride to renewed exertion to defeat these schemers' desperate and illegal efforts.

We publish elsewhere in THE EVENING TELEGRAPH to-day the able and elaborate speech of Hon. Charles Sumner, delivered in Boston, and also a full phonographic report of the oration of Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, which was listened to last night by thousands of our citizens. In times of great political excitement like the present, it is well that the views of tried leaders be given to the people, and the record of Messrs. Sumner and Hamlin is such as to demand attention for all their expressions. The ex-Vice-President still remains in the city, and will be tendered the compliment of a serenade this evening at the La Pierre House by the Union League. It will take place at 10 o'clock.

BEWARE OF LAST CARDS.—The Democracy, rendered desperate by the certainty of defeat, are holding back until the last day some damaging falsehood against General Geary, and hope, by then publishing it, to prevent the falsehood being rebutted for want of time. All such last cards are falsehoods, and will not deceive even the most credulous and doubtful of the people.

LADY HAMILTON, the friend of Lord Nelson, was once rowed ashore by one of Nelson's sailors, whom she deemed deserving of some courtesy at her hands. "Will you have a glass of rum, a mug of beer, or a tumbler of punch?" inquired the lady. "If you please, responded Jack, with his best bow, "I will take the rum now, and toss off the mug of beer while your ladyship is mixing the punch for me."

General Dix seems to have inherited Jack's comprehensive appetite.

RELIGIOUS. Congress Endorsed and the President's Course Denounced by the Western Methodists.

QUINCY, Ill., October 3.—The annual German Methodist Episcopal Conference for this district, including Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, part of Iowa, and Illinois, closed its session here yesterday. There was a large attendance, between eighty and ninety German ministers being present. The Convention was presided over by the well-known American Bishop Simpson. Before adjourning it adopted resolutions, without a dissenting voice, commending Congress, and particularly favoring the Constitutional amendment, and disapproving President Johnson's policy.

The General Methodist Conference, which met a week or two since at Bloomington, Ill., adopted similar resolutions, as also did the Methodist Conference recently in session at Laporte, Ind. The signs of the times are not to be disregarded, and show that the great body of the Methodist Church is truly loyal.

DEFAUDING THE GOVERNMENT.

A Claim Agent, of Washington, Charged with Swindling the Government.—The Knight of Arabia in New Orleans. NEW ORLEANS, October 3.—A huge bill of the Government, to the amount of about half a million dollars, has been unearthed by United States detectives. The party implicated is J. Lowenthal, of No. 297 Federal avenue, Washington, who is a claim agent there, and who left here yesterday to avoid a writ, as a warrant was out for him. It is said that several paymasters who "right the ledger" are partners of Lowenthal. I will send you particulars to-morrow, as affidavits have been filed setting forth the facts.

Colonel McIves, whose arrest by the department commander has already been announced, is a huge one in the Knight of Arabia, of which Bain arrested in New York. In this connection, I have a copy of the bills from which I learn that their object is an arduous emigration to a country not named, whose products are tobacco, cotton, sugar, and coffee. I learn from reliable sources that the Knights do not propose to vote out neutrality laws, they will be familiar this month, but the arrest of Bain and McIves has a master plan, and their object is to get the money out of the pockets of the Government. One of a genuine Syrian was present, and saw him seize several of these documents.

NEW ORLEANS, October 3.—Evening.—I have learned further particulars of a fraudulent transaction, as a claim agent in Washington, he was in the habit of getting from U. S. Army, Navy, and other departments, bills of exchange, and other documents, which he sold to certain discharged privates of regiments who were entitled to certain amounts of back pay and bounty. The bills were given to him by the paymasters, who were familiar to Lowenthal, and who were paid by the Government. One of a genuine Syrian was present, and saw him seize several of these documents.

A warrant was issued yesterday by Judge Augustine, and placed in the hands of United States Marshal by him, but Lowenthal had left for Washington, carrying with him about twenty checks of from $100 to $500. He is believed to have been in the hands of the United States Marshal, and citizens are partners of Lowenthal in the swindles, which amount to about $1,000,000. —New York Herald
